M. de Montalembert, the religious wrihow, some time ago, he was fined and sentenced to prison, but pardoned by the Emperor, for drawing a comparison between the latter. Though unpopular in France, M. de Montalembert had by his boldness awakened the sympathies of his adversaries, and had retired from the contest with all the honours of war. This time he has taken the field in favor of the Pope, and declared himself the champion of the ultramountain prelates, who have dared to raise their voice against the ruler of France. The ex-pair de France is a man of considerable abilities, both as an orator and as a writer, and is considered as one of the ablest supports of the Church. His roice has been silenced, the Correspondant and the Ami de la Religion, vo newspapers patrenized by kim, have received warnings. The liberal papers, and above all the Steele regret this interdiction, being willing to break some lances with these religious

It must be confessed that a breach has spread between the Government and the Clergy, and no one can say how far it may be carried. The first Napoleon, following town, and fine outlaned good citizens with the example of another King of France, its fess and feathers and excitomert .-Philippe the Handsome, who had the Pope carried away from Rong, imagined to have ners during the night, despite the eighbore done with Pine VII, when he held him in Fontainebleau, and succeeded only in rendering the weak old Pope more interesting to the eyes of Catholicism. The splendid Palais do Laxembourg ame very near being destroyed by a conflagration a few weeks ago. All the most interesting and historical parts of the Palacc, together with honks, pictures, records: cic., ctc., were however preserved. I recall this event, although relatively an old one, because with it has disappeared the last vestige of the revolution of 1848, then called the glorious, but now accepted as the fatal revolution. I refer to the destruction of the half in which the Provisional Government held its sessions. Where are to-day the members of this, for a few Lieutenants and Corporals being more months, power ful government? Some numerous than the rank and file, and, al Government hold its sessions. Where There now, dear Brusdway, take its medicine like a good boy. It had sent n. me of its bets specimens to the "Anturent" but he did not fird them "at zil equal to some of ours." A nice pill—do you good—feel better in the muraing. What was that you waid? The Antherat's is ordy an American pille perhaps don't agree with your constitution, and we will give you a nice English medicine. Open mouth wide now and swallow a little from the Journal of the Birmingham Phutographic Society.

"a c have received a letter from Mr. Anthony of New York, containing three Siere-uncopic Views of Broadway taken instantaneously. The noble street is represented througed with carriages and foot passengers. All is life and motion. The trotting omaibus aurses are rampht with two feet off the ground boys are running—men walking, riding, driving, carryling weights—laddles sweeplug the dirty pavenents with their long dreases, or trailing up their critodine and displaying the dirty pavenents with their long dreases, or trailing up their critodine and displaying their pretty ankles as they trip over the crossings exactly as threy do in Burnye. We learn more from this Steroscopic glimpses of Broadway than from a whole library of Books of travels. In particular the picture taken in the rain has a charming atmosphiric effect; —the eye is carried along a mile of noble houses and ships, each more hazy than Its meighbor, until you lose everything in an initial of misty distance.

In reply to Mr. Anthony's query shout as European photographers, we can only say we know of no pictures, save 1 wo on three of Wilson's best, which could be put in comparison with those which he has acut; and we old-world slick-in-the-mod fellows must take care or the Yackees will go a head of us."

This DELICIOUS TONIC

especially designed for the use of the Medical Profession and the Failly, possesses those intrinsia medicinal properties (Tonic and Directic) which belong to an Old and PURE GIN. The business of manufacturing spurious gibs, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, " Aromatic,"—" Cordial,"—" Medicated," etc., has become so common, that the nubfic are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the rade has thus been brought into disrepute If has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular aced, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established, eputation - founded upon righty years of experience -abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.
